

MSC Science Building Gets State Approval

Plans for NWMSC's new $3,000,000 science building are moving ahead rapidly after the recent additional allocation of $1,000,000 by the U. S. Office of Education.

It is hoped that bids can be let by the end of May and construction started by the end of June or the first of July, according to Dr. Robert P. Foster. "The target date for moving classes into the new building is February or March of 1968," stated Dr. Foster, who estimates that needed time to complete the project will be approximately 18 months.

The building will be constructed north of the Administration Building where the present Veterans Village is. It will be on a V-shape, east to west, with parking and entrance to the north of the Administration Building.

The three-story building, which will cover 120,000 square feet, will be of brick and lime stone construction with concrete panels in front.

Included in the $3,000,000 allocation is $600,000 for advanced equipment in the biology, chemistry, and physics laboratories and classrooms. Dr. Foster stated that instructors in these three departments have been consulted about plans since the beginning of the project.

It has also been announced that a new department of geology will be set up in the new building.

MSC Invited To Hear Broker

Vincil Kaylor, Kansas City, stock broker with the Bach and Company, Incorporated, will speak to Pi Beta Alpha in Room 213 of Colden Hall at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

Although he is associated with the second largest brokerage firm in the United States, Mr. Kaylor has been a stockbroker for just three years.

Edward Browning and Roger King are Pi Beta Alpha sponsors. Melvin Booth is president of the group. All male visitors are welcome and encouraged to attend this meeting.

WRONG FIGURE!

Figures reported for the Ugly Man contest were $2,225.38 netted; however actually $2,030.38 was collected.

This revelation changes the estimated boost to the student loan fund when matched by the federal government at a rate of ten dollars to every one raised to slightly over $20,000. The reported figure was $23,000.

The amount first reported included $225 deposited at the Nodaway Valley Bank which had been borrowed from the business office for money exchanges during the carnival, according to Gary Dagley, president of Alpha Phi Omega, the sponsoring organization.

A SMASHING CLIMAX is enacted by Nick nor in the final scene of "Dirty Work at the Erganian, Doris Wilson, and Tom O'Con- Crossroads."

Violence, Romance to Portray 'Tempted, Tried, and True'

The Speech and Drama Department has set the style for its Gay '90's production of "Dirty Work at the Crossroads," to be performed May 4-6, in the Little Theatre of the Administration Building.

he is wicked, Tom O'Connor; Ida Rhinegold, as wild as she is wicked, Sara Copman.

Mookie Maguggins, as rude as he is rustic, Joe Maltsberger; Mrs. Upson Asterbilt, of Newport and Brooklyn, Judy McGinnis; Leonie, her daughter, a Madison Avenue Belle, Cheryl Reineke; Fleurette, their French maid (Ooolala!), Beverly Schwartz; and Little Nell, who never had a father, Carole Sinclair. ## Campus Construction Continues in Spring

New Student Housing

Despite the inconvenience of stepping aside for ditches and construction equipment, students and faculty at MSC are aware that the revisions to the campus will more than make amends for the "trouble" which they have caused.

The addition to the Union is expected to be in use by next spring while the dormitory complex should be completed for housing students by this fall. The new science building will be available by '68.

The incoming freshmen, who are being honored in this issue of the Missouriian, will be among the first to enjoy the labors of the college expansion. Today, they may enjoy the chimes ringing across the campus; tomorrow, they may hear the melodies from within the bell tower which will be donated to house the chimes.

Cartoonist B. Sanders Alerts Students to Need for Reading

By Tenilla Sheehan

"A person aware only of the news piped into his television set does not have an intelligent concept of world affairs," believes Bill Sanders, distinguished Kansas City Star political cartoonist.

Sanders, who was on the MSC campus to address an AAUP meeting Apr. 14, spoke to a student assembly that afternoon. Besides attacking the apathy of many citizens toward world affairs and emphasizing the importance of the newspaper to the informed individual in U. S. society, he spoke illuminatingly on the subject he is an authority on — the editorial cartoon.

Offering a brief historical background, Sanders said the editorial cartoon came into its own in the field of American journalism in the 1800's with the work of the famous Harper's Weekly cartoonist Thomas Nast. Nast, he pointed out, originated the GOP elephant and the Democratic party's donkey, and also created the present physical image of Santa Claus.

Sanders noted that the objectives of the editorial cartoon are similar to those of the newspaper itself. It should report national events, comment on them, and should have some force in public opinion.

Among the categories of political cartooning that he discussed were: the opinion cartoon, which says: "This is what the situation is," with no opinion or feeling; the editorial cartoon, which, of course, takes a definite stand or attitude; the "heavy" school of cartooning, which depicts sombre, symbolic attitudes to create reader introspection; and the "gag" cartoon, often used to make a strong editorial point.

In discussing the cartoonist's problems with caricature, Sanders mentioned that President Johnson and ex-President Eisenhower both have "rubbery" faces which are extremely difficult to characterize as wicked. He noted that Barry Goldwater's natural sneer presented a challenge for sympathetic cartoonists who strived to create an amiable cartoon image for him.

Sanders illustrated his talk with many delightful cartoons which he chalked on stage. He demonstrated his skill at caricature by doing an amusing sketch of two students selected from the audience, Marilyn Wood, Kansas City, and Jerry Eisenhower, Carrollton, freshmen.

The comparatively youthful Mr. Sanders, who has made outstanding achievements in his fascinating field, has some original drawings on display in the White House. It has also been announced that some will hang in the Kennedy Memorial Library.

Walk Out Anniversary Brings Excitement, Surprises for All

Canoe jousting, pig chasing, swinging with the Brothers Four and dancing to the fabulous Gentrys, highlighted the Golden Anniversary of Walk Out Day, last Wednesday, despite weather conditions.

At approximately 8:15 a. m., heralding trumpets and the ringing of the bell announced a day full of excitement, surprises, and fun — minus lectures, books, and exams. To start the morning's activities, boys were invited to enter the greased pig contest. Winners of this contest, Gary Dickerson, Plattsburg, and Gary Weaver, Oakland, Iowa, were awarded trophies.

Twenty-six teams took part in the men's canoe jousting on the college pond. One paddler while the other stood on the gunwale wielding a defending long stick with a rubber plunger on the end. Two brothers, Melvin and Rodger Box, Kansas City, were declared the winners. Don Robinson assisted Darwin Bears, chairman of the Union Board, in officiating the contest.

The women's rowing contest was also held on the college pond. Barbara Harr, Logan, Maryville, and Terry Stitt, La Grange Park, Ill., were the winners. They recorded a one minute 46 second trip across the pond and back.

The campus then became virtually a ghost town as students took part in traditional picnics and parties. It came alive, however, at 3 p. m. when The Brothers Four appeared on stage in Lamkin Gymnasium for a two-hour concert.

The culminating event was a dance featuring the Gentrys. A capacity crowd was delighted with songs from "Keep on Dancing," an album by the Gentrys, as well as many other popular numbers.

Cheerleader Tryouts Scheduled for May 12 At Martindale Gym

Cheerleading tryouts will be held at 5 p. m., May 12, in Martindale Gymnasium, according to Miss Bonnie Magill, head of the women's physical education department.

Representatives from each recognized campus organization will serve as judges. Miss Marcy Severson and Miss Celia Thompson, graduating varsity cheerleaders, will also assist in the selections.

College men and women who are interested must register at the Registrar's office by noon of May 12. To be eligible, the applicant must have maintained a 2.0 overall grade point average. In addition, those selected must attend the National Cheerleading Clinic for college yell leaders at Dallas, Aug. 21-26. Expenses will be provided by MSC.

Practice sessions may be arranged through Miss Severson.

Students Asked To Slate Desires For Next Classes

A questionnaire will be distributed next week to all students enrolled in English 10, 11, 12, and 85 classes to indicate tentative schedules of courses they plan to enroll in next year.

In order that results may be more accurate, students are advised to identify those courses they would like to take in the spring and fall semester of next year.

According to Oscar Kirschner, assistant dean of administration, the results will be used to help determine the classes and number of sections required to meet the needs of the students.

There Is a Foreign Flavor In Her Life

By Susan Cisco

Watertaxiing in Venice . . . shopping in a German flea market . . . learning judo in Munich . . . wandering through the Italian Colosseum . . . when Jan Couch, MSC sophomore, finds life particularly oppressing, she often relives her colorful life in Europe.

Her early childhood was spent in Richmond, Va. In 1958 the family moved to Munich, Germany. They lived in American housing as part of an Army community, her father being a major in the Medical Service Corps of the US Army.

Miss Couch attended Munich American High School, almost exclusively composed of American children. In seventh grade, her gym instructor decided that all the girls should be taught the art of self-defense, judo. In the process of learning to fall correctly, Miss Couch broke her collarbone. This particular course was thereafter discontinued, she recalled.

Especially exciting were the Munich beer festivals called Oktoberfest. All the beer makers of Bavaria would celebrate with a carnival. How colorful were the huge tents filled with rows and rows of picnic tables, traditional German bands in costume, carnival rides, and a parade with all the nearby villages participating!

Another unique custom that intrigued the MSC coed was the annual flea market or Dolt, centered each spring around an old Munich church. All kinds of antiques, food, and junk are brought and sold at these events.

Each summer, the Couch family toured many different parts of Europe, camping along the way.

During their first summer abroad, the family visited the Brussels World Fair. Miss

SPORTING A JAUNTY LODEN hunting cap, Jan Couch reminisces about her wide travel experiences in Europe, with each bit of decor on the hat having a pleasant relationship to one of the places she visited while her father was stationed abroad

Couch was disappointed in the American pavilion finding there a fashion show with French clothes on German models. She was, however, impressed by the royal atmosphere of the English pavilion with its elaborate display of the crown jewels and its ornate stained glass windows.

The following summer's expedition began in Rome, Italy, where Miss Couch held up the USO guided tour while she wandered, supposedly lost, through the huge Colosseum. She found the little republic of San Marino especially picturesque with its castle and surrounding countryside.

"The beautiful timberland and cool climate of Denmark reminded me of Oregon," she remarked of the Scandinavian countries. Miss Couch especially remembered Odense, the birthplace of Hans Christian Andersen, and the Olympic ski jump in Oslo, Norway. Her final summer in Europe was spent touring the Western countries.

"England is my favorite country. It is a very proud nation with tradition seeming to ooze out of the people and the country," she said.

On the sidewalks of the famous Paris cathedral, Notre Dame, she found artists who drew portraits on the cement for just a few pennies.

In Amsterdam, the "Venice of the North," Miss Couch discovered canals filled with boats named after American presidents.

To recall the experiences of her travels, Miss Couch has collected ornate pins from each country she visited. These are pinned on a jaunty hunting cap, a souvenir of Germany.

An active member of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority, Miss Couch is a speech correction major. Currently, she is rehearsing for "Hello Out There," a play to be presented in May.

Her comment about the draft: . . . "Don't knock the Army. It's a great life!"

THE STROLLER

... Walk Out Day seemed to be a complete success for everyone, including The Brothers Four, who received two standing ovations.

As for the fellow who requested "Fly Me to the Moon" and was told he was on his way, he wasn't the only one headed in that direction.

The hardest fact to face about Walk Out Day is that plain, ordinary Thursday always follows. For some this meant student-teacher conferences in the afternoon because of classes missed in the morning.

... A counselor in Hudson Hall was torn between authority and fun this week when a birthday party for her roommate turned into a shaving cream fight. The counselor learned that she had a pretty practical roommate, though, when she started spreading the shaving cream on her legs.

... "Education TV Plan Falters" ... Thus reads a UPI news release headline. Reason offered by congressman: Lack of state interest and cooperation in supplying the required matching funds. Ye Olde Stroller always knew there was nothing that could replace the teacher in the classroom.

"That goal of having an ETV station within every American's viewing radius is nearly 40 years away," reported Secretary John Gardner, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Audio-visual proponents hope he is wrong.

... Things are looking up, me thinks, when an economics professor has difficulty in finding a smoker among his students to serve as an example for monopolistic competition.

And another instructor was pleasantly surprised when her students voted unanimously that smoking and drinking are "bad habits!"

Kappa Omicron Phi Inducts New Members

Ceremonies were held Apr. 13, to initiate eight new actives to Kappa Omicron Phi.

Pledges activated were Maribeth Annan, Karen Brady, Ruth Carlock, Julie Faulstich, Norena Harold, Marjorie Joesting, Kathy Johnson, and Kay O'Dell.

Faculty, Students Attend Meeting

Faculty members and students from the Division of Science at MSC attended the annual mid-April meeting of the Missouri Academy of Science at the University of Missouri.

The group heard papers presented concerning biology, chemistry, and physics. They also toured the new Research Reactor Facility and Space Sciences Center at MU.

Faculty members who attended were Dr. Kenneth Minter, Dr. Irene Mueller, and Dr. Richard Hart, biology; Dr. Sam Carpenter, Dr. Edward Farquhar, Dr. H. K. Higgenbotham, Richard Landes, and Myrl Long, chemistry; Dr. William Pendleton, Paul Temple, and Theodore Weichinger, physical science.

Students attending the meeting were Jay Rash, Soren Sorensen, Jerome Ransom, Daryl Mercer, John Whitcomb, and Solomon Christian.

Education Office Asks For Corps Volunteers

The United States Office of Education has recently issued a call for National Teacher Corps volunteers and asked for applications by May 31.

"Our objective," said Commissioner of Education Harold Howe II, "is to reach and teach the children of poverty. For the task, we need experienced teachers and college graduates — including June graduates."

During the training period, of eight to twelve weeks, recruits will attend university courses on the sociology of poverty and the teaching of educationally deprived children. While in training, they will receive $75 per week plus $15 for each dependent. Those successfully completing the training will become members of the Teacher Corps.

Applications or requests for additional information from volunteers and local education agencies should be addressed to the National Teacher Corps, 400 Maryland Ave., S. W., Washington, D. C., 20202.

Instructor Has Background With National Labor Board

By Phil Wise

A practical, as well as formal background, adds greatly to the all-around effectiveness of a college level instructor.

Such a background is possessed by Clarence M. Henderson, Northwest Missouri State College social science instructor. Mr. Henderson, who specializes in labor relations, has had a year's experience with the National Labor Relations Board.

C. M. Henderson

Mr. Henderson worked as an investigator for the NLRB from 1964-65, "to learn more about labor." He is now working on his doctorate on "The Impact of Taft-Hartley on Labor Legislation in the United States."

The American history instructor smiles as he remembers applying for a position with the NLRB during the summer of 1964. He arrived at the federal building in St. Louis on a motorcycle. The officials, he recalls, were a bit dubious of him since he was wearing jeans and a leather jacket. Their doubts were removed when he produced his transcripts. He received the NLRB post without further question.

His impressive college background includes a bachelor's degree from Arkansas Polytechnic College and a master's degree from the University of Arkansas. He has to his credit, a major in history and minors in science and mathematics, American literature, and political science.

Mr. Henderson taught at Arkansas Polytechnic College and has had more than eight years' service with the United States Navy.

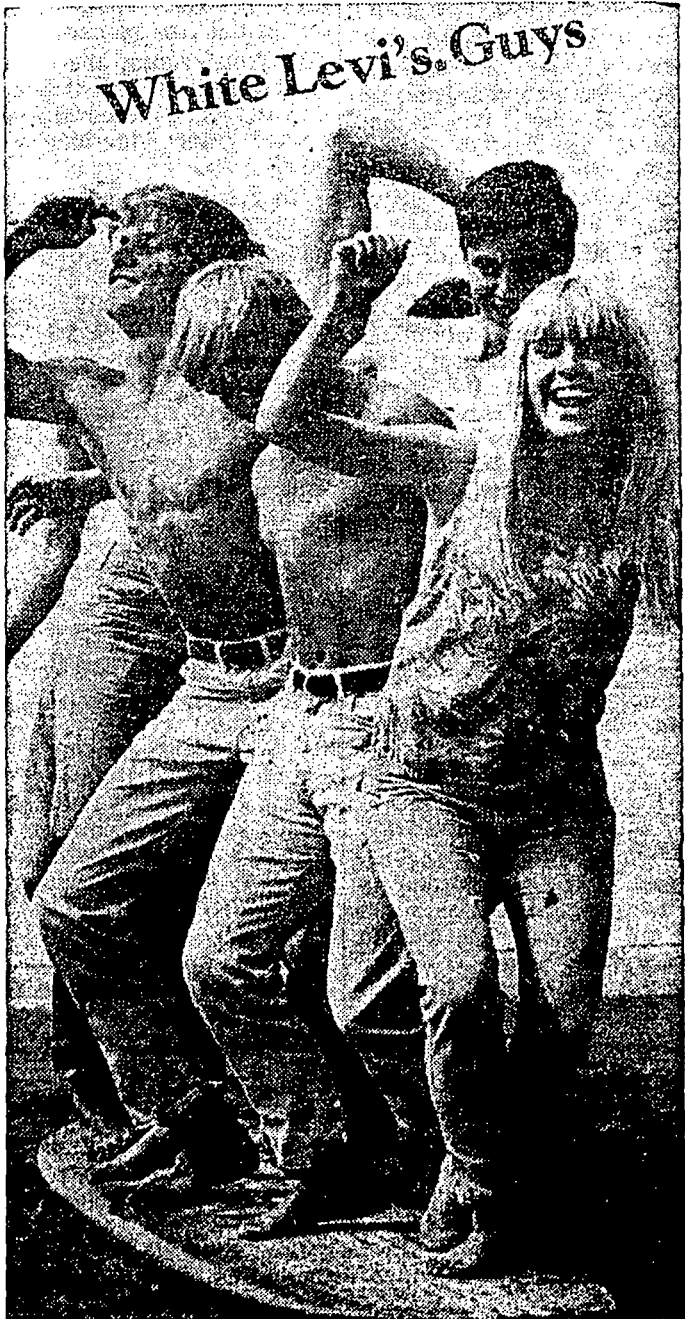

As field examiner for the NLRB, his job was to correct unfair practices by employers. He described the NLRB as "one of the smallest, most powerful independent agencies of the Federal Government. It has at its disposal, 2,000 employees at 30 regional offices and an annual budget of $26 million."

As an example of his duties, Mr. Henderson recalls one case dealing with an engineering company in St. Louis. An employee had filed a complaint stating that he had been fired during discussion of grievances. Since this is illegal, Mr. Henderson obtained back wages for the employee.

Having completed his research project for his PhD dissertation, Mr. Henderson returned to teaching, this time at MSC. He did so simply because he "enjoys teaching."

Mr. Henderson's Labor Relations class can be confident that they are being instructed by both a practical as well as a scholarly authority.

... Ye Ol' Stroller was informed that a certain driver has survived another of his numerous trips to the roadside ditch. 'Tis reported that Maryville's roads keep moving out from under him.

Letter to Freshmen of '66

MSC Welcomes the 'In-Crowd'

Welcome Class of 1970,

You are in the "in crowd," and we are waiting to welcome you!

As you know, NWMSC is initiating a program of pre-registration to aid you. Beginning in June, the college will register 50 new students per day. Each of you and your parents will confer with your appointed faculty adviser to help you choose your course of study.

You will no longer be an IBM number or your parents' checkbook! You won't decide to give up college to work in a hairbow factory before you get out of the registration line! You "in-crowders" will not have to be squeezed, squashed, stepped on while waiting in line for an hour, only to find out, "This class is closed"; "You should be in that line"; "I'm sorry, you have the wrong card," or "Lunch time, come back at 1 o'clock."

By participating in MSC's

new registration program, you will get acquainted with your adviser when the time is right, not five weeks too late. The new program will save you time, money, effort, frustration, and embarrassment.

Your step from high school to college will be different and better than ours because you will know what you are doing before you get here, not three semesters after you have enrolled as some of us did.

Personal attention and advisement are necessary for a successful and pleasant college career. MSC is offering you this in its new program. We upper classmen, although envious because some of us still have to stand in lines and run around in a maze wondering what to do after we get there, welcome you to our campus and wish you a pleasant and satisfying college experience. It's a great school!

The Student Senate met in the Upper Lakeview Room of the J. W. Jones Union Building at 6:30 p. m. Apr. 14. President Jerry Taylor presided.

Permissions: Colhecon was granted permission to have a bake sale at 7 p. m. on Apr. 28, in Hudson, Perrin, and Roberta Halls.

Old Business: Sandi Coffin moved that a $15 limit be set on the Who's Who gifts. The motion carried.

Sandi Coffin moved that the committee select gifts for Who's Who on the basis of the $15.00 limit. The motion carried.

New Business: Bob Bosch moved that the cheerleading try-outs be held on May 5. The motion carried. (Editor's Note: This was later changed to May 12.)

Barb Castor moved that each campus organization send one representative to be on the committee to select the cheerleaders. The motion carried.

Each representative and each cheerleader will have one vote. Dottie Hardyman moved to allow the Interfraternity Council to put up a sign announcing Greek Week on the contingency that the sign is first approved by the ground superintendent.

It was suggested that the Senate have a dinner if there are sufficient funds in the treasury. Sandi Coffin will check into the cost of a dinner at the cafeteria, and a decision will be made at the next meeting.

Bob Bosch suggested that the Senate minutes be published each week in the Northwest Missourian.

A representative for the Missouri Intercollegiate State Legislature asked the Senate for a donation to help cover the costs of sending representa-

To the Class of '70—

THE OTHER SIDE

What's behind the birches?

And the ponderosa pines, the mounds of dirt made by the construction workers, the blue curtains of the President's office window, the cloud of smoke in the Den?

It's Northwest Missouri State College . . .

It's more than 3,000 students listening to classroom lectures, attending spring formals, den dances, and ball games, talking by the pond . . . It's faculty members who help those students in their search for the liberating truth and who, in turn, are helped by the students in their own personal search.

What is that truth? "The truth shall make you free" are the words inscribed above the doorway of the Administration Building, a huge and powerful edifice. Trying to define truth is like trying to describe with words "what is behind the birches." It's something you have to see for yourself, something you have to feel, something you have to become a part of.

How do you discover the truth that will make you free? How do you find out what MSC really is?

. . . Walk hand-in-hand with your girl down the sylvan walk between President Foster's home and the Administration Building on a perfect spring evening. Or shuttle between classes beneath branches covered with color-changing leaves or a snowy chiffon on a white winter morning.

. . . Go to class in new buildings like Colden Hall, less than seven years old, and the Olive DeLuce Fine Arts Building, less than a year old. Be the first to live in the new seven-story high dormitories, the first to use the new cafeteria.

Watch workers complete the J. W. Jones Union Building alteration and addition and begin the new mathematics and science building and the new agricultural complex. And wait for the new swimming pool, the new football field, more dorms.

. . . Read The Northwest Missourian, the campus newspaper trying to keep pace with the rapidly forward-moving school. Listen to KDLX, campus radio station, which moved into a new location this year, which will transmit off campus in the near future, which will serve as a stepping-stone to a campus television station. Examine from cover to cover the Tower—You won't be disappointed. . . .

. . . Laugh and cry with your roommate. Join the masses in watching "Batman" and "Get Smart," or join the devilish ones who take time to shortsheets beds. Meet with people in the dorms, in Colden Lounge, at halftime, at the Pizza Palace to discuss . . . and discuss . . . and discuss . . .

. . . Meet the Community Ambassadors, who will travel abroad the approaching summer at the expense of the college. Wonder to yourself, "Could I be chosen a Community Ambassador? Where would I go? India? Pakistan? Colombia?"

. . . Pledge a fraternity or sorority, an affiliation which can last a lifetime. Enrich your college life with the pleasures and pains of Greek life—eating, stuffing floats at Homecoming, studying till 4 o'clock in the morning, even arguing with your brothers or sisters—and always trying to outdo any other Greek organization. Or remain independent. Or join GDI, the independent student organization.

. . . Join the organizations which appeal to you. Never miss a chance to participate in a bull session. Spend time in the Den just talking.

. . . And amidst all this, you will find time to study. Take advantage of a new library with an ever-increasing number of books. Take notes with great speed during a challenging lecture by Mr. Fry or lay your pen down and just stop and think. Stop and think. You are getting filled with facts and bombarded with pressures and meetings and new responsibilities. Stop and think. What is the truth? How can I best find the truth through classes and friends, through an hour spent in the Den just talking or spent in my room alone, just thinking?

You can find the truth, or something extremely close to it, at MSC. You can find a husband or a wife here, too. It's worth a try! We are glad you freshman have chosen our alma mater.

tives to a meeting of this legislature to be held in Jefferson City on May 6 and 7. The request was discussed by the Senate. Mike Thompson moved that the Senate deny this request for a donation on the grounds that the campus organizations who are sending representatives to this should pay the costs. The motion carried.

President Taylor appointed Chuck Kilpatrick to take the place of Trav Booth and Ed Lambright to take the place of Bernie Veak on the student faculty disciplinary committee.

Lonita Hersh was appointed to replace Bernie Veak on the Student Traffic Court, and Bob Bosch was appointed to Trav Booth's place. Jim Beemer will take over the chairmanship of the Traffic Court in Trav's absence.

Dr. Koerble Announces Car Pre-registration

Dean of Students Charles E. Koerble has announced that all cars must be pre-registered for both the summer session and next fall.

Cars for students who will be seniors next summer or fall will be registered May 2-7; juniors, May 9-14, and sophomores, May 16-21. All cars, including off-campus parking, must be pre-registered.

Orientation Committee Established for Fall

"What do you know now as an upperclassman that you wish you had known as a freshman?"

This is the question Rosanne Bartlett, Diane Brown, and Bob Bosch are asking themselves and other students as they work with Dean of Students Charles E. Koerble to improve next year's freshman orientation.

During the 4-day orientation period next fall, students will not have to take the reading test. Approximately 60 per cent of next fall's freshman class will pre-enroll during the summer.

Greeks Conclude Special Week

Fraternities and sororities at Northwest Missouri State have been celebrating their annual Greek Week on campus this week.

Celebration began Monday with Greek Identification Day as members of all the organizations wore their specific organizational dress on campus. Monday evening, the Greeks held a tea in the Rose Room of the Student Union for their boards of control, patronesses, advisers and associate members.

All day Tuesday, the organizations displayed awards and trophies in the entrance of the Den, and Wednesday was sweat shirt day. Public services to the college were performed Thursday as the groups sponsored Campus Cleanup Day.

An all-Greek picnic is being held today, and the week's activities will end Saturday with a Greek dance from 8 to 12 in Lamkin Gymnasium.

Greek organizations on the MSC campus taking part in the annual Greek Week are five fraternities: Alpha Kappa Lambda Delta Sigma Phi, Phi Sigma Epsilon, Sigma Tau Gamma, and Tau Kappa Epsilon, and four sororities, Alpha Sigma Alpha, Delta Zeta, Phi Mu, and Sigma Sigma Sigma.

Women's Gymnastic Clinic Set for May 7

Miss Bonnie Magill, chairman of the Department of Physical Education for Women, announced at the last PEM Club meeting, that a gymnastic clinic for women physical education majors will be held Saturday, May 14, at Martindale Gymnasium.

The clinic will be led by Mrs. Melvin Elliott, the former Miss Durton Iserloh, from Solingen, Germany. She has had 14 years of experience in gymnastics and was graduated from the Sporthochschule in Cologne, Germany. She is the wife of Melvin Elliott, executive secretary of the Red Bridge YMCA, Kansas City.

Mrs. Elliott teaches special gymnastics at the Roanoke Southeast and Northwest Community centers there. She will conduct activities here with ropes, gymnastic balls, wands, and hoops and in free exercise.

'Cat Grid Team to Receive Boost from Top High Stars

Head Bearcat football coach, Ivan Schottel, has announced that 11 high school grid stars have accepted athletic scholarships to attend MSC next fall.

Three outstanding backs, Howard Woolsey, North Platte high fullback; Dave Rebori quarterback, and Mike Beach, fullback, from Kansas City DeLaSalle; and lineman Dave Ross, Belleville, Ill., rate near the top of the select group in performance and honors.

Woolsey, 5-8½, 215 pounds, scored 19 touchdowns and rushed for the 924 yards in his final season at the Dearborn, Mo., high school. He was named to all-conference and all-district first teams.

Rebori and Beach combined to lead their team to a 10-0-0 season in their senior years at DeLaSalle, when their team was selected along with Jefferson City as Missouri's top team. Rebori, 5-9 and 170, scored 13 T.D.'s, rushed for 502 yards, and completed 21 of 44 passes, for 457 yards and five more touchdowns. He was selected for all-Metro and all-district teams, and received honorable mention all-state. Beach was the team's number two scorer with 36 points, and leading rusher with a 5.6 yard per carry average.

Ross, who is 5-10 and weighs 175, was selected to all-Southern Missouri area, all-district, and all-conference teams, and received special mention all-state in Illinois. A linebacker, Ross made 140 tackles in his senior year.

Other linemen who will attend MSC next fall are guard Mike Hurst, 5-11 and 185, from Scottsdale, Ariz.; second team all-state; Glen Keppy, 6-3, 220, tackle, Davenport, Iowa; Fred Engleman, 6-0, 185, defensive end, Carl Sandburg High, Chicago; Richard Mayness, 6-1, 245 All-Southwest Iowa center from Greenfield; James Neal, 6-4, 210, Oak Park of Kansas City, tackle; and Guy Noblitt, 5-11, 195, defensive and from Grandview.

Coch Richey Reports:

Pitching has been a bright spot in the MSC baseball season which opened April 1 and will run through May 14.

According to Dr. Burton Richey, chairman of the Division of Physical Education, the pitching has been generally above average, but the hitting needs improvement. Bob Albany has been the top hitter of the team with a .384 average. The overall team average is .185. Doctor Richey added that the team attitude has been good.

The following is part of the remaining baseball schedule:

- Apr. 29—Kirksville, here, 3:30 p.m.
- Apr. 30—Kirksville, here, 1 p.m.
- May 2—Nebraska Wesleyan, Lincoln, 1 p.m.
- May 4—Clarinda, here, 1 p.m., freshman and sophomore team
- May 6—Parsons, Fairfield, Iowa, 3:30 p.m.
- May 7—Parsons, Fairfield, Iowa, 1 p.m.
- May 9—Trenton Jr. College, here, 6 p.m., freshman and sophomore team.
- May 11—Peru, there, 1 p.m.

Those who have participated this year are Don Belinger, Jerry Hanson, Dennis Kaupp, Robert Kline, Larry Maiorano, Don Peterson, Jerry Robey, Edward Simons, and J. B. Watsbaugh.

Team members gain one hour of activity credit if they sign up for it at registration. "It is usually taken for enjoyment," Coach Milner explained. "They like to make their varsity letter."

The golfers frequently must miss classes in order to participate in meets. However, missed work is made up. Also the players require practice every day, some working on their skills from noon until sundown at the Maryville Country Club.

The MIAA does not permit the use of golf carts or caddies. Therefore, it is not all glory which makes a golfer. To put it allegorically, it takes "drive!"

Top Wrestlers Plan To Enroll at MSC

Three top ranking high school wrestlers have indicated they intend to enroll at Northwest State College next fall, according to wrestling mentor Jerry Landwer.

One of these, James Pono, is two-time Rhode Island 112-pound state champion from Mt. Pleasant High School in Providence. Pono recorded a 21-0 record in his senior season and went undefeated in his last two years of competition.

Cliff Palmer, 165-pound champion of the 16-team Corn- ing, Iowa, Invitational Tournament, also plans to attend MSC. The Iowa grappler recorded a 25-3 record in his senior season.

Also planning to enroll here is Terry Hartley of Prairie High School in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Hartley, whose high school coach Bob Mellgrin also coached present Bearcat grappling stars Ron James and Jerry Mason while he was coach at Chariton, Iowa, won the district tournament at 112 pounds.

Coach Milner, Team Show 'Drive' Is Key Word in Golf

By Sally Jackson

"Shhhh..." says the coach. "Can I get that horse with a two iron?" asks the driver. "Snakesville!" exclaims the putter.

Quite evidently, the language of the golfer is not the language of the layman. The coach, who in this case is Ryland Milner, athletic director for MSC, means "quiet" when the man with his eye on the ball is about to move it.

A "horse" in the golfer's term is simply the green. And far from what the average person would think of a snake, this little bit of terminology refers to a "sunk ball."

To date, the collegiate golf team has amassed a winning record of nine, having lost only one in scheduled meets.

Nine men have participated in matches this year. Each of the 12 who are "trying out" is battling for a position on the six-man team which will go to the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association conference at Springfield, May 12-13.
